Negotiations Completed on Land Sale To Warner-Kanter; Awaits PDC's OK

by Al Skolnick

After four months of negotiation, final agreement was reached at an all-day Monday conference between representatives of Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation and the Warner-Kanter builder-developer firm for the sale by GVHC of its land-holding subsidiary, Greenbelt Land Improvement Corporation. Unless Peoples Development Company registers disapproval of the sales contract, closing date of the sale will be April 29.

Upon completion of the sale, Warner-Kanter is to put down $25,000 which is to be placed in escrow and used for meeting payments to PDC and PHA that come due in June and for taxes due in September. Then Warner-Kanter is to pay off the following sums. $150,750 to GVHC over a 5-year period; $266,750 to PDC over a three-year period; and the remainder of the land debt owed to PHA. The total sale price is about $900,000.

In the final stages of negotiation, one major change proposed by PDC was altered: the granting of an option to PDC for the purchase of 28 acres of undeveloped land in order to protect the interests and investments which its affiliated companies have in Greenbelt Consumer Services. This land included a tract near the intersection of Southway and Glendale road, which is thought to be especially suited for a gas station. Warner-Kanter balked at giving this option because of a desire to share in the commercial development of the land.

Opportunity to Share

The final agreement, while giving PDC the right of option until December 31, 1955, also provides that Warner-Kanter Company has the opportunity until September 1, 1955 to present plans for sharing with PDC of the over-all commercial development of the land on terms that would be financially equitable to all parties concerned. President Burgoon anticipates PDC will go along with the change.

Other changes proposed by PDC were accepted by Warner-Kanter. These changes, which were approved by the GVHC Board of Directors at Friday's meeting, called for the payment to PDC of 10 percent of the amount accruing to GVHC as the result of the sale and the inclusion in the contract of a personal indemnity agreement which would hold Warner-Kanter personally responsible for payment.

"Not Unreasonable"

Burgoon explained that the 10 percent payment was not unreasonable since PDC had incurred many expenses in handling the land transaction, and it was too much to expect PDC approval of the contract unless it contained specific advantages for PDC.

GVHC President Ed Burgoon hailed the agreement as a significant milestone for Greenbelt. "With this contract," he stated, "we have accomplished what we set out to do: (1)—we have assured control of the land so that it will be developed in accordance with Greenbelt's Master Plan, (2)—at the same time, GVHC is assured of a substantial profit from the sale."

JCC Women's Club

The J. C. C. Women's Group will hold their next meeting April 28th at the J. C. C. Building on Ridge and Westway at 8:30 p.m. election of officers will take place. After a short business meeting election of officers will take place. Entertainment will be provided by Martin Berkofsky who will play a few selections on the piano. Also on the program will be varied dance numbers by a quartet of dancing-girls. Refreshments will be served.

Pay Raise Proposal Embarrasses Council

City councilmen may get a raise in pay if they're not too "embarrassed". The touchy subject was brought up again at last Monday night's city council meeting after city manager Charles McDonald submitted a report on comparative salaries for mayors and councilmen of nearby areas.

The report revealed a salary range for mayors from no salary in Brentwood, University Park, Capitol Heights and Rockville $1200 in Hyattsville and Mt. Rainier. Councilmen range from no salary to $600 in the same cities. Rockville alone has a city manager.

Greenbelt city councilmen including the mayor receive $250 a year.

Although any raise approved by the present council does not become effective until after the next election in September, a profound reluctance to discuss the proposal was noticed at the meeting. To fill the pregnant pause, McDonald declared that he thought the council may be too "embarrassed" to discuss the proposal—however, he felt the city council has enough added responsibilities to warrant an increase in pay. If the federal government approved former budgets with the present salary scale it is certainly apparent that additional responsibilities added to the city was sold should make a salary increase proper, McDonald declared.

The manager was instructed to draw up an ordinance to increase the council's salary to $500 a year, and to be included in the agenda of a future meeting, preferably one with a small agenda to give ample time for discussion. It is hoped that the ordinance will be considered for final action before July 22, first day for acceptance of nominating petitions for the September election.

McDonald also disclosed that citizens now have the right, under the newly-passed "home rule" legislation, to petition the council to rescind any action. Also, it is the first council action taken under this new legislation, which wasn't possible earlier unless the state legislature approves a change in the city charter.

Powerless Wardens Patrol Lake Area With Walkie-Talkies

Five officers of the Izaak Walton League in Greenbelt will be authorized by the city to patrol the lake area as conservation wardens, it was disclosed at the city council meeting last Monday night. The wardens will have no police powers, cannot arrest, or take into custody any citizen violating the law.

However, the wardens will be furnished with a walkie-talkie to keep in radio touch with the police for quick emergency action.

The lake area has been a constant source of littering and malicious destruction recently. Working vigorously to maintain the natural beauty and advantages of the lake is the Izaak Walton League, which will furnish the wardens on a volunteer basis.

News Deadline

Starting next week the deadline for announcements, church notices and news stories intended for the News Review will be Monday night. Copy can be mailed to the News Review at P. O. Box 68, or left at the Tobacco shop as usual, but should be at these places a day earlier than the previous Tuesday deadline. Of course, where the copy describes events of Monday or Tuesday nights (and Wednesday, in rare cases), the Monday deadline may be extended.

Publicity people and reporters are asked to write their names and phone numbers somewhere on their copy. If this is done, the editor can, if necessary, contact the writer before publication.

The earlier deadline will help both the printer and the staff to prepare the paper for publication without imposing a hardship of late hours on the volunteer staff.

GVHC Quarterly Meeting Scheduled For Monday May 16 at Center School

The GVHC Board of Directors has set Monday, May 16 for the next quarterly membership meeting. Because of the small attendance at recent meetings, the Board decided in the interest of economy to hold the meeting at the Center school.

Trash Problem

Numerous complaints were received by the Board at its Friday meeting regarding the city's policy of collecting rubbish, leaves, and that such material be deposited in cartons prior to collection was felt by many to need more flexible application, since in many cases the rubbish could not be fitted into receptacles. Another complaint concerned the slowness with which the city responded to calls for special pick-ups, thus allowing carefully-collected debris to become scattered again.

Manager Paul Campbell pointed out that a question has also arisen regarding the division of responsibility between GVHC and the city for collecting trash in connection with certain GVHC maintenance work. Al Long was appointed chairman of a special committee of three to take up these differences with the city council.

Legislation

Abraham Chasanow, GVHC general counsel reported on the progress of special legislation designed to clarify the legal status of mutual housing corporations under Maryland statutes. A bill, excepting contracts like those of GVHC from the land installment law and the land redemption lease law, was passed by the Maryland House of Delegates but was killed in the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee in the last moments of the 1955 session. It was reported from Annapolis that failure of the bill was due to Senator Wheatley's opposition.

A similar bill, but applicable only to Charles County, was passed by both houses and awaits the Governor's signature. Under this bill, Potomac Heights Mutual Ownership Association of Indian Head, Md., will achieve statutory authorization for its contracts.

Since GVHC will not benefit from this law, Potomac Heights has agreed that GVHC should pay only one-third instead of one-half of the $1,000 expenses incurred in connection with this legislation.

Parking Areas

The Board heard a suggestion by Joseph Loftus that a piece of property opposite the open garages at 7 Crescent be leveled off and hardtopped to provide much-needed parking space for residents of the court who now park on the street. Burgoon pointed out that the parking problem was city-wide and could not be dealt with on an individual basis. Because of the cost involved, the Board called for a thorough investigation of the possibilities of long-range joint efforts by the city and GVHC to alleviate the parking space shortage.

Gardening

Board members Percy Andros and Hans Jorgensen reported that they have received numerous requests for GVHC to furnish sod fertilizer, and seed. Andros pointed out that his main concern was with GVHC common property for which no individual member had responsibility. He suggested that if the members in each court agreed to take care of such land, GVHC should provide the necessary gardening material free. The Board agreed to look into the possibility of furnishing such material to interested members.

Expansion Plans For Commercial Center Proposed by New Owner

Expansion of the Center business area and parking lots was proposed to the city council by Alfred A. Gilbert, owner of the commercial buildings. Gilbert's request to "acquire" city-owned land behind the Mall statue and adjacent to the swimming pool for expanding the parking area, was read by City Manager Charles McDonald. Gilbert declared the plan would be "mutually beneficial." McDonald admitted he wasn't sure what Gilbert meant by "acquiring"—dedication or sale.

However, McDonald indicated general approval of the plan (which he displayed on a map to the council) except for the land behind the statue—"we have already made prior claim to that parcel of land." (McDonald was referring to a new municipal building planned in the future.)

Gilbert's plan proposes that parking areas on both sides of the center be enlarged to limits taking in the playground in front of the bowling alley entrance and back to the end of the swimming pool blocking off the entrance between the barber shop and the fire house with new entrances off Crescent and Parkway; and enlarging that parking area to include a playground in front of apartments on Crescent. McDonald disclosed that Gilbert hopes to build more stores and needs more parking area to meet zoning requirements.

"Every parking space is worth $15,000 yearly in business," McDonald stated, according to business research. The additional parking area would be helpful to the community, McDonald assured the council, particularly for persons using recreation areas in the city, and by bringing in additional revenue from taxes. The space proposed would accommodate 500 cars.

Gilbert's letter reminded the council that new businesses would be needed to accommodate future development, eliminate peak-hour traffic hazards, besides being well-planned and diversified.

McDonald informed the council that one of the first projects Gilbert will build is a first-class restaurant.

The council instructed the manager to continue conferences with Gilbert and report developments on the plan at future meetings.

14 Candidates Vie For GCS Congress

Local members of Greenbelt Consumer Services will meet Friday night in the Social Hall of the Greenbelt Community Church at 8 p. m. to elect eleven delegates to the new Co-op Congress. The following have been nominated as candidates for this election: Walter J. Bieruaken, T. George Davidson, George Eshbaugh, Albert Herling, Robert C. Hull, Mrs. Jane Hunt, Hans Jorgensen, Mrs. Carolyn Miller, Kenneth Powell, George Reeves, Benjamin Rosenzweig, Sam Schwimer, Mrs. Jane Volkhausen, and Henry R. Walter.

The quorum for this meeting will be 111 members. Greenbelt membership totals 2205, out of a total G.C.S. membership of 5677. Consideration of by-law changes as recommended by the Board of Directors and reports on cooperative results in the past year will be discussed. The new co-op movie, "Where People Count" will be shown, and refreshments will be served.

At the Wheaton Area meeting last Wednesday, April 14, four congressmen were elected: Robert T. Bonham, Jack T. Jennings, John S. Kenestrick, and Henry Redkey. Takoma Park results are incomplete.

Wednesday, April 27, the Co-op Congress will hold its first meeting at the Takoma Park meeting room.

Rough Diamonds

Caldwell Baker made his "annual request" to the city council last Monday night; "When are you going to fix up the ball fields?" The council assured him the work is in progress and the diamonds will be ready in a short time.

Local Weatherman Reviews Winter

by William H. Klein

Now that spring is definitely here, a review of the past winter's weather is in order. The table below, based upon observations taken once each morning at the Greenbelt cooperative weather station near 52-Ridge, tells most of the story. It shows the highest and lowest temperatures, as well as the total snowfall and precipitation (rain and melted snow) during each of the four winter months from December 1954 to March 1955.

Greenbelt Weather Data for Winter of 1954-55:

	December	January	February	March
Maximum temperature ((F.))	62	62	70	79
Minimum temperature (F.)	11	1	1	17
Total snowfall (inches)	Trace	2.7	7.4	Trace
Total precipitation (in. of water)	2.73	0.29	3.11	3.06

Coldest

The lowest temperature of the winter in Greenbelt was 1 degree above zero, recorded on the mornings of both January 28 and February 14. The coldest afternoon was February 3, when the mercury did not rise above 22 degrees all day. The highest temperature was 79 degrees on the afternoon of March 22. This premature heat wave was broken by passage of a sharp cold front, which lowered the temperature to 33 degrees by the next morning, a drop of 46 degrees in about 16 hours!

Snowiest

The snowiest month of the winter was February, when snowfall for the month totaled 7.4 inches. February was also the wettest month, with a total of 3.11 inches of melted precipitation. January, with only 0.29 inches of precipitation, was the driest month of the winter. In fact, this was the driest January in over 80 years at Washington, D.C.

Gardners should note that the average date of the last killing frost in this area is April 28.

Cancer Crusade

The American Cancer Society is having its annual Cancer Crusade next Monday night, April 25 from 7 to 8 p.m. Volunteer workers will knock at your door for your contributions. The past week the Salk polio vaccine has dramatically demonstrated what can be accomplished by research supported by your gifts. Sooner or later Cancer will be licked; how soon depends on your generosity.

Council Proclaims
"Clean-up Week"

"Clean-up Week" will be observed in Greenbelt from April 22-29 by resolution of the city council. The week will also be observed by the State of Maryland through proclamation by Governor McKeldin.

The city council approved a $50 sum to be spent on promoting clean-up week. Suggested by councilmen to point up the problem in the community, was the piling of one day's city trash collection in the Center mall. This "dramatic junk pile" would emphasize the need for constant citizen effort to keep the city clean, one councilman observed.

City manager Charles McDonald declared that he thought the candy and drink manufacturers should help in clean up promotions as the wrappers and cans make up most of the unsightly litter in the city. He cited the neatness of the Center business area during the Easter week-end when the candy store was closed, as an example of the need for this kind of co-operation.
